RE: PCTPros

To Whom It May Concern:

P.C.T. Technology Professionals has been our computer and networking support for the past 4 years. Mark Rhoades in particular was instrumental in the development and implementation of our entire computer based operations. PCTPros has continuously provided my company with stellar service during our entire relationship. They have responded in a timely manner and have been able to repair, upgrade or make recommendations that have benefitted our company.

They have provided accurate billing and estimates and have been reliable when any problem occurs. In fact they have worked after hours when needed and have made office visits when required.

I am currently entertaining some significant improvement to our system and will not hesitate to contact them

Highly recommended
